COUNTRY CLUB CHRISTIAN CHURCH NEWSLETTER

From the Senior Minister That Night

Rev. Carla Aday

There is nothing quite like that night. The sanctuary goes dark and one candle is lit, until the room radiates a holy light. When the gathered community sings Silent Night on that candlelit night, even the biggest skeptic can believe.

What is it about the night that settles ominously over us, and what is it about candlelight that awakens us to wonder? A few years ago I drove to my monthly Scrabble group in a pouring rainstorm. The group was fairly new and we were still getting acquainted, not yet completely revealing of our personal woes. We mostly laughed, spelled words and talked about the news. But on this night, the power went out. And the host only found one candle. It was not enough light to play scrabble. But it was enough to share refreshments and talk. And there in the candlelight, we talked for hours, just talked. In a real way. Not just about the news, but about the stories of our lives.

I realized recently that most of the Christmas story takes place in the dark: the wise ones following the star in the night sky; the shepherds keeping their flock by night, Joseph has a dream, the angels sing their birth announcement in the night sky. And yet we spend so much of our lives avoiding the unknown dark corridors of life. Regardless of the rotation of the earth, there are situations we prefer to avoid, emotions that constrict the heart. Maybe that is why Christmas happens at night, so that God can descend into the corner of our lives that most needs to be illuminated by love.

I have not missed a candlelight Christmas Eve service for over 40 years. But this year will be the first time I get to speak the word, not just read the scripture. I am excited. And afraid.

With grace and peace, ☩

Carla

Join us this Advent Season

The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not overcome it.

— John 1:5

The darkness sometimes overwhelms us. World events and family concerns challenge us. In the midst of the worry and the busyness, “One Candle Is Lit.” The December sermon series will look at how God’s light becomes meaningful and real, bringing hope, peace and love to us and the whole world.

Join us in worship on Sundays, December 3, 10 and 17 at 9:00, 10:00 and 11:00 a.m. Then, return on Christmas Eve as one candle is lit, and then another, and another, in exultation of the child born to bring light and peace to the world.

New Director of Mission Partnerships Named

The Personnel Committee announces the appointment of Rev. Corey Meyer as the church’s new Director of Mission Partnerships. The board voted on his appointment in November.

Corey has a Masters in Divinity from Brite Divinity School in Fort Worth, TX. He is an ordained minister in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) who has developed hands-on learning experiences through mission trips with agencies such as Urban Spirit and Disciples Home Mission. He also was involved in establishing International Fountain of Hope, a non-profit organization which organizes resources to provide access to water, food and education to some of our most vulnerable global neighbors.

In the position of Director of Mission Partnerships, he will work to strengthen the partnership between Country Club Christian Church and Northeast Kansas City by building vital relationships through volunteer presence and financial investment, and he will work with lay leaders and staff in guiding the work of local hands-on mission, grants and mission trip.

Corey will join the church staff in January. ☩

A Word about Advent

By Dr. Mike Graves, Scholar in Residence

The term Advent literally means “coming,” as when historians write about the advent of the industrial age or some such thing. Or perhaps a more appropriate analogy would be the advent of winter. The season of Advent spans the four Sundays prior to Christmas, and the idea is to slow down and prepare for the coming of Christ. In our busy culture, slowing down may be next to impossible, but preparing is an essential spiritual discipline this time of year. There are lots of wonderful traditions associated with the season, such as the weekly lighting of different candles on the Advent wreath, postponing the singing of actual Christmas carols until December 25, and decorating trees with Chrismons (monograms of Christ). The season of Advent did not get started until around the fourth century, although it was Bernard of Clairvaux in the 12th century who popularized the three-fold understanding of Advent. He said Christ came in his Bethlehem birth, will come again at the end of the age, and comes everyday into our hearts and this world. 🍷

Decking the Halls

The beginning of Advent is a day when churches have traditionally decorated their sanctuaries, a tradition known as the Hanging of the Greens. The evergreen pine boughs and the circular wreaths symbolize everlasting life in Christ. As one can imagine, decorating our church is no small thing, and we are grateful to the committee that oversees this each year. The first Sunday of Advent, however, we will “deck the halls” with a special procession at each of our three services with candles and special ornaments known as chrismons (monograms of Christ). “Let every heart prepare him room.” 🍷

Holiday Shopping at The Well

Do your Christmas shopping at The WELL. We have something for everyone on your list. Be sure to show your appreciation to the host and hostess on your party circuit. Take a decorative dish, holiday kitchen towel or cheese serving set instead of the usual bottle of wine!

Christmastime Joy

By Lindsay Howes, Director of Children's Ministries

Christmas Eve is exactly 27 days from the moment I sit to write this article. With that brings lots of joy, anticipation, and panic, but mostly joy. Joy because we get to spend more time together as a family, joy because we will come together to celebrate Christ's birth, and joy that we get to continue faithful conversations with our children around the excitement of the season.

I also feel joy around all the fun things we get to do with our church family. We just wrapped up Advent in Advance and the Christmas Festival is right around the corner, but I absolutely love our family Christmas Eve service.

During this service the children get to decide whether to be an angel or a shepherd— which always takes my crew an additional 10 minutes, followed by lots of chaos as we situate ourselves for the Holy Family's arrival, followed by the Angel and Shepherd families. At this moment is when things get even a little more crazy as the other angel children and shepherd children make their way to be with the Holy family. It is absolute joy to see all the kids and their families together on this very special night.

This year I am even more excited as we have planned for a few more fun details and a special moment for the children with the Holy family. I think it will be a night to remember, so come early, get the right costume headpiece for your littles (to avoid any added meltdown) and be ready to celebrate Christ's birth!

Wishing you much joy this advent season! 🕯
