Church Branding Project Seeks Your Input

Last year, the Congregational Board initiated a project to study the mission, vision and identity of Country Club Christian Church, laying out a six-phase process to discern what message we want to give the community about who we are as a church, and how our message and identity can honor our past, reflect our theology and serve our neighbor. Now, the project moves into the creative refinement phase, and your input is needed.

For the next month we will be gathering your comments and ideas. You can participate by filling out a Branding Project worksheet, available in the Parlor or online at cccckc.org.

The worksheet reviews key messages about what makes our church distinctive, reviews who we are as a church and who we want to reach, and what we want our church brand to reflect to the community. These messages were gathered from input at the Apr. 27 Town Hall meeting.

You are asked to provide suggestions for new ways to use our current name through a slogan or a "nickname" OR suggestions for a new church name.

To date, a committee has developed objectives for this project and conducted initial research and input was gathered from the congregation at the Town Hall meeting. From that input, the committee developed key messages and criteria

Telling the Truth to God

by Dr. R. Glen Miles

Telling the truth to God is not as easy it might sound, especially when it comes to prayer. I've given and heard many prayers over the years; at the Communion Table, in hospital rooms, at meals, in Sunday school classes, at weddings and funerals, even at football games. Many times the content of these prayers is focused on what the person thinks God wants to hear. At other times they are mini-sermons with a particular audience in mind.

I recall coming home early several years ago in order to deal with one of my boys who had spent the afternoon in the principal's office. Julie knew I was coming early so she wisely had dinner ready when I walked in the door. I wanted to launch into a lecture on proper behavior but first we sat at the table and prayed. One of the boys, the one in deep trouble at school, volunteered to pray. He said,

"Thank you, God for loving us and forgiving us NO MATTER WHAT!"

Our laughter was our amen. That little prayer helped us, especially me, relax and face the issue of the day (which as it turned out wasn't that big of a deal).

That is what an open and honest prayer life can do: set us free from worry and anxiety while facing whatever hard truth might be in front of us. That honesty defines the difficulty of the task of prayer. I know about a variety of prayer techniques, forms and styles. I've led workshops on how to pray in theologically and ecclesiastically correct language but if I am not willing to pray with openness and honesty then the form, the language and the style are almost irrelevant.

David Jacobsen writes in his book, Clarity in Prayer, "If you are talking with someone who already knows the truth, you had best stay close to the facts."

He's right. If prayer is going to have any effect on your life it is a pretty dang good idea to go ahead and be honest about who you are before God. In the long run, that honesty will lead to a refreshed and renewed life of faith.

Grace and peace to you,

Save the date! On Thurs., Oct. 16, the Green Team will present "The Land Institute – Internationally Famous and Locally Obscure" at 6:30 p.m. The Land Institute is working to reverse the antagonism between agriculture and nature. Using nature as the standard, Land Institute scientists are developing perennial mixtures that can produce food in harmony with the wild. Free and open to the public. No registration required. Door prizes. For further information call 816-665-4456.

Landscaping About to Begin

By John Clemmer, Business Administrator

One of the orange construction fences from the front lawn is gone! I am happy to report that the work by C&M Restoration is virtually complete as I write this and the second orange fence and the cranes should be gone by this Saturday (the 16th).

The final areas of work by C&M were in the area of the front door and octagon turret to the left. The building looks stunning as the final phases of their work are being completed. I invite you to take a look at the front of the church if you haven't lately. The building looks spectacular.

The next phase of the project will include new sidewalks, lighting, irrigation, and landscaping. Some highlights of this phase will include:

- New lighting and additional landscaping at the front is designed to create a more welcoming environment.
- New exterior lighting will highlight architectural features of the church. In addition there will be new bollards to improve lighting. The new LED lights will be energy efficient. Eighteen watt spotlights will light the top of the bell tower.
- New sidewalks will include an expanded area at the front door which will include decorative brick. This enlarged entrance area will be completely surrounded by landscaping including perennials and annuals to add beauty and color. This should be a beautiful place for wedding photos!
- The shrubs in front of the building will be replaced and redbud trees added.
- The front lawn and back lot will have new turf.
- The chapel landscaping was recently updated by volunteers with the Green Team and Grace at Work.

It is very exciting to see the building repairs completed and the final parts of the project about to start. As always we thank everyone for their generous donation of time and energy to make this project possible.

Save the Date: Oct. 5 for Re-dedication of Our Building

Join us on Sun., Oct. 5, as we re-dedicate our 92-year-old building for the next century.

After two years of construction, it's time to celebrate the beautifully refurbished exterior. Our new alabaster stone work will be glistening as we dedicate the church for the years ahead.

Country Club Christian Church was established in October 1920 and the original part of the building was ready for occupancy in 1922. The sanctuary building was constructed next, dedicated on Jan. 24, 1926.

Watch for details about the upcoming celebration.

Nice to Meet You! 10 Things About Me

by Rev. Dr. Meredith Holladay, Minister of Membership Development

1. I'm a PK. Pastor's Kid. My dad has served three Baptist churches. All three have been in Louisville.
2. I love my hometown. Born and raised in Louisville, given the opportunity I will talk your ear off about my favorite city. I am, however, a lousy Kentuckian. I do not like bourbon, horses or baseball. Well, I'm neutral about baseball.
3. I have lived in seven states and D.C. – if you count summer camps and internships: Kentucky, Florida, New Jersey, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Texas and Kansas. I have a love-hate relationship with Texas – mostly because I strongly dislike eight-month-long summers, but love Tex-Mex.

4. Texas was home because I earned my Ph.D. at Baylor. My degree is in Religion, Politics, and Society (all the topics not fit for polite conversation), and I wrote my dissertation on theology and popular music.
5. I am (recently) engaged to another minister. Ten days before I started here Zach proposed. He succeeded in surprising me (something I didn't think possible). We met in seminary – 10 years ago! – but were just friends until we reconnected when he moved to the area April 2013 to serve as youth pastor at Village Presbyterian. We're just getting started on planning, but hoping for a March 2015 wedding.
6. My sister is also a pastor. She graduated in 2013 from McAfee School of Theology in Atlanta, where she still lives and works for the Cooperative Baptist Fellowship home office in their communications department.
7. My mom is a retired elementary school principal. She has had a career in public education longer than she's had a career as a mother. She will be here for Festival Sunday, Aug. 17. Be sure to introduce yourselves to both of us!
8. I have a problem with volume perception (not decibels). Any time I have the task of putting leftovers away I either pick a container that is way too large or laughably small. Every. Single. Time.
9. For a short time I thought I would be a math teacher. I loved math in high school and was really good at calculus. Then I got to college. I double-majored in English and Religion. Go figure.
10. I love mushrooms and cheese and fresh bread. I strongly dislike olives. I would tell you I hate olives, but my dad always says, "Meredith, hate is a very strong word."

Meredith with her mom Patty, sister Emily and fiance Zach.

Children and Families Sunday Morning Format

Grow, Proclaim, Serve

Through Grow! Proclaim and Serve your child will hear the Bible story, apply the Bible message, and then live out the message in their lives in concrete and age-appropriate ways. Sunday School starts off in a group worship service and then the children divide into small groups based on grade level to continue conversation and activities. We are very excited about this format for the 1st-5th graders and the 3 to 6 year olds.
