PartNerShip Spotlight: Newhouse

Over the last few weeks we've been telling you about PartNerShip, an initiative to develop relationships in the Northeast Kansas City community and to work collaboratively to make an impact. Through agencies working in that area, we have an opportunity for meaningful service. We've had existing partnerships with three of these agencies, Micah Ministry, Sheffield Place, and Garfield Elementary School through Harversters' BackSnack program. Our new opportunities are with Newhouse, the Northeast Chamber of Commerce, and Della Lamb Community Services. In this Spotlight, learn a little more about Newhouse, and its champion, Kathleen Brewer.

grams at Saint Luke's College of Health Sciences. My research interest is studying substance abuse among minority and abused women in an effort to learn how best to serve this vulnerable population. I have completed and published numerous research studies about this topic.

The gift of community I experience from serving the women at Newhouse cannot be adequately described in words. I received the Charles Passantino Humanitarian Award from Newhouse in 2010 for my service.

If you'd like to learn more about Newhouse or get involved, contact Kathleen at kbrewer@saintlukescollege.edu. Watch for more information about our other partner agencies in future issues.

Meet Kathleen Brewer, Newhouse Champion

Newhouse is a shelter working to break the cycle of domestic violence by providing the tools which allow women to make positive choices and lead self-sufficient lives. Kathleen is our liaison to Newhouse. She has been working with Newhouse for many years.

Meet Rev. Monica Lewis

Rev. Monica Lewis joined the Country Club Christian Church staff on Oct. 1 as the Minister to Children, Youth and Families. Learn a little more about Monica and her goals for this ministry area.

Q: Tell us a little about yourself. (Not technically a question, but you get the idea.)

I am originally from Nevada, MO, (about 100 miles south) so Kansas City feels like home to me. My husband, Johnny, is the pastor of Shawnee Park Christian Church and we have a perfect, beautiful and highly advanced almost-2-year-old,

Ellie Kate...and I'm not biased! I am passionate about helping ALL people find the love of God in their lives.

Q: What are you most excited about for the future of Children, Youth and Families Ministries?

It's no surprise to us that the ministries to children and youth are in a state of transition. That can be appear scary but I see it as an excellent opportunity to reimagine everything. We are fortunate to have a solid foundation on which we can begin to build and, in three short weeks, I've seen that the Country Club Christian Church is filled with the talent to build vital and sustainable ministries that meet our children and youth where THEY are developmentally, educationally and in the tough moments with adolescents.

Q: What do you hope our children and youth gain from their involvement at Country Club Christian Church?

I want our children and youth to know that God loves them and will never leave them. Period. But that's the big picture. I want them to build lasting relationships with their peers as well as other generations within the church, have fun while doing so, and know that they have relationships with at least five people within the church who they can count on through every moment of their lives. When we minister with children and youth, the entire body of Christ should be involved and I hope to empower as many people as possible to use their gifts to serve within these ministries.

October/November Series: Unstoppable: Following in the Footsteps of Paul

Dr. Glen Miles returns from the church's trip to Greece to present this series, which follows Paul in his travels through these ancient biblical lands. If Paul was anything, he was unstoppable. He was relentless in his desire to preach the good news of God's love as it was revealed in the life and teaching of Jesus. He was beaten, tortured, whipped, left for dead and imprisoned but nothing could keep him from the work he was called to perform. Paul was a very creative and free thinker for his day. His insights continue to ring true even now.

Do You Believe in Miracles?

by Dr. R. Glen Miles

Someone asked me the other day, “Do you believe in miracles?” I said, “I remember when the USA Olympic Hockey team beat the Soviets at Lake Placid and the ABC announcer, Al Michaels, asked and answered his own question: ‘Do you believe in miracles? YES!’ ”

“Is that the kind of miracle you are asking about?” Before he could answer I went on:

“Back when I was a summer intern in 1978 at First Christian Church in San Francisco I met a woman there named Luella. She was misdiagnosed as mentally retarded when she was an infant. Her father abused her. She was terribly mistreated. Her face was misshapen. Her speech slurred. That summer she turned 40 years old. The church folks found out that she had never had a birthday party before. They held one for her at the regular Thursday night Bible study. As the cake and the candles were brought out and the happy birthday song was being sung, she began to weep. Once the song was done and the candles blown out she said, ‘Before coming to this church I had never known what it was like to be loved. I know now.’

“It was amazing. I cried real tears too. I was an arrogant know-it-all 19-year-old kid but on that night I witnessed a miracle. A miracle named love.”

I asked my questioner, “Is that the kind you are talking about?”

Again, before he could reply, I told another story:

“I met a woman in Atlanta back when I was a pastor there. Her name was Ann. She was Asian American. She came to church one Sunday because the sign on the corner said ‘Grace Spoken Here.’ She told me that she needed grace. She had been in an abusive relationship. The man she married beat her up throughout the first nine months of their marriage. She finally got out of it, got a restraining order and moved on with her life. She had grown up as a Buddhist. The church in Atlanta welcomed her. She was not told to give up Buddhism. She was invited to follow Jesus. She moved back to the west coast after a couple of years. She told me on her last Sunday before moving, ‘You know, it sounds funny but my whole life has been turned around. I feel like discovering the teachings of Jesus has given me a whole new start on life. It’s like I have been resurrected.’ ”

I do believe in miracles. Especially the kind where lives and sometimes whole communities are transformed by the power of God’s undying love.

Grace and peace to you,

The CanCan Lounge

by Lauren Weinhold, Director of Church Growth

It was an unlikely setting for a worship service, but once we moved a small cocktail table to the center of the stage to serve as our communion table, the Can-Can Lounge on our cruise liner became the perfect make-shift sanctuary for a Sunday afternoon worship service as we sailed through the Greek Isles.

Our worship service, in many ways, looked very similar to what happened at 61st and Ward Parkway that same day. A few members of the group read scripture, some offered prayers for our communion, Glen shared a brief meditation, we sang hymns and, although no friendship register was passed, we even had a first-time visitor.

During the course of our service, several ship passengers wandered through the lounge with curious looks on their faces. One gentleman though, Walter Kelly, stopped, pulled up a lounge chair and joined in as we sang and shared communion together. As a member of our group offered Mr. Kelly a tiny hunk of a dinner roll representing “The love of God for you,” I felt huge tears well up in my eyes. A fellow teary-eyed trip-mate leaned over to me and whispered, “This is why I love my church.” After we sang the last stanza of “Amazing Grace,” several group members greeted Mr. Kelly and thanked him for joining in. I followed their beautiful example and struck up a conversation with our new friend. Mr. Kelly, who lives in Washington, DC, explained that he had grown up in a church, but felt a disconnect from God for most of his life. He went on to share that a few years ago, he found his way back to God and has been on a journey ever since. As I handed Mr. Kelly the last remaining hunk of bread out of my sweaty fist (Bread is sacred in Greece. None gets wasted.), I shared our church’s tag line, “Strength for the Journey, Grace for the Soul.” He smiled and said, “Your church certainly is.”

In that moment, I was so proud to be a part of this faith community. As I made my way back to my cabin, I felt an internal tugging. I didn’t want the beautiful thing that had just happened upstairs to be an isolated incident. Whom do I know here at home that could use a little hunk of bread? Whom do I know here at home who would love to pull up a lounge chair and experience, even if for just a few minutes, the love and presence of God? I invite you to ask the same of yourself. It’s pretty amazing what a piece of a sacred dinner roll can do.

Sticky Faith

by Rev. Monica Lewis, Minister to Children, Youth and Families

There's this term out there that is exactly what I hope the children and youth of our church are able to develop – sticky faith. It's a pretty descriptive phrase. It means exactly what it says. We want our children and youth to develop a faith at Country Club Christian Church that will stick with them after they graduate from our youth program. We want our children and youth to make more than memories. We want our children and youth to gain more than lasting relationships. We want our children and youth to know more than how to play their favorite games. We want them to know more than the stories of our faith. We want them to know that God is madly in love with them! And we want them to never walk away from their faith or the church. We want to equip them with a faith that sticks!

We've got our work cut out for us. But we are ready to do it. God is leading us to do it!

It's no surprise to any of us that church is very different in 2013 than it has been for the last couple of generations. We are constantly bombarded by the reality that church in the United States is experiencing a decline. But that's not the final story. There are people who spend their lives researching this phenomenon and those people tell us there is hope (by the way, so does Jesus!). One of the ways we can change this reality for our children is by giving them the opportunity for five adults in the church to get to know them—not just their name but really know them.

Is that person you?

Is God calling you to invest in the life of a child?

Think about it. Pray about it. I think you'll be surprised at how much it will change your life!

Monica
