COUNTRY CLUB CHRISTIAN CHURCH NEWSLETTER

From the Senior Minister Woven Together

Rev. Carla Aday

I look out and a beautiful woman who has been sitting alone
for five years is now sitting in a different section,
laughing knowingly with a group of friends. A grandmother on the third row is reaching over the edge of the wooden pew to display her shiny amethyst ring to a curly haired baby girl arching her back in her Dad's arms.

An elder in a hat extends her hand to support another elder on the stairs on the way to the communion table. And then I close my eyes. Twenty robed in blue echo heaven's bliss, though their own individual lives are fractured and bruised from the week's events.

The drama unfolds week after week, not only during the passing of the peace or after the benediction as folks break back into conversation but even during the worship service, where small tender acts of graceful love seem to weave the people together into a church. A few weeks ago in staff meeting, Mike led us in a conversation about worship. What is it really?
Why do we gather? One suggestion was that "worship promotes growing closer to those gathered." We wondered aloud if this happens as we sit in rows facing forward. And then we

Pathways to Learning in April

Don't Know Much about the Bible

Led by Dr. Graves, Sundays, Apr. 15, 22, 29. 10:00-10:55 a.m.
If there ever was a time when everyone attending Sunday services knew the Bible well, it's no longer the case. Surveys indicate we are better at naming the four members of The Beatles than the names of the four Gospels. Even entering seminarians admit to lacking basic knowledge of the biblical texts. In this introduction, we'll explore the library of documents we call "Bible," with an overview of both testaments, and discuss approaches to reading more closely and fully.

all shared stories about how we have witnessed these subtle yet profound gestures indicate something holy that is far beyond anything written in the worship bulletin.

In his book, Way of Love, Norman Wirzba writes, "A community is not simply a collection of individuals, but a membership of creatures woven together by the daily work of love." One of the things I love about Easter is that on that Sunday, the whole community comes together to celebrate that we are a membership, not just a collection. It's much like getting the whole family together on any holiday. Somehow it just feels complete to have all of us at the table. And to know that we are woven together by the daily work of love.

See you Sunday.

The Things We Say To Ourselves

By Rev. Corey Meyer, Director of Mission Partnerships

“Self-compassion is key because when we’re able to be gentle with ourselves in the midst of shame, we’re more likely to reach out, connect, and experience empathy.” – Brene Brown

We are our own worst critics. You have probably heard that cliché a hundred times. I cannot remember where I heard it for the first time, or even quote who said it. What I know is that it rings too true for many of us. We all seem to have that voice in our head that can either whisper or yell at us when we do something wrong. My inner critic has been relentless lately. I’m talking full force; drown out the rest of my thoughts through a megaphone relentless. It’s pierced through about everything: you forgot to do the dishes today, how could you forget to pay that bill, if you went to bed earlier you wouldn’t be so tired, you watched two hours of Netflix tonight when you could have read that book, you’d be a better person if only... the list goes on and on.

Self-criticism is a force to reckon with. It’s becoming a new topic of conversation among psychologists, sociologists, therapists, and other “-ists” that have interest in how people behave. We all seem to be subject to it. Some have a louder critic than others. It often comes out of the myth of perfectionism that we believed could be reached. We see ourselves in the highest ideal and then when we fail to reach it, a catastrophic disappointment happens and suddenly feelings like shame and inadequacy creep in our beings. Brene Brown is a contemporary author, recurring TED Talk-er, and sociologist attacking the culture of shame in our society and how we can be resilient to it.

One of the ways we can combat our inner self-critic and the feeling of shame is changing our self-talk and employing a great deal of self-compassion. I’ve been on a journey of trying this more lately.

In the recent weeks I have found myself repeating a timeless word to myself: Grace. Each time I hear that inner-critic flip on the switch of the megaphone and yell at me I take a pause. I take a deep breath, focus myself, and respond to myself with saying, “Grace.” I can tell you there is an immediate wave of calm that comes across me. A deep relief happens in my soul that I can forgive myself for being so tough. I can relax knowing that sometimes I make mistakes. I may not live up to who I want to be in the moment and that is okay. Self-compassion is a great spiritual discipline we can employ in our lives. It is a reminder that we are always living into being our best selves and sometimes we fall flat on our face and need to hear the word “grace.” ☞

Adult Classes and Group Fellowship Opportunities

Rethinking the Lord's Prayer

Led by Mike Graves. Mondays, Apr. 16, 23, 30, 7:00 p.m. Scholars in the area of worship note that even when we go through the motions on Sundays, it's ok because the motions go through us.

The Lord's Prayer could be a good example since it's easy to mumble our way through, not paying attention to its meaning. In this three-week class, we will look more closely at this beloved prayer Jesus gave us, line by line. It might make a difference the next time we pray it.

Faithpub

Hosted by Dr. Mike Graves

Apr. 19 and May 17, 7:00-8:00 p.m.

This popular men's group meets for beer and conversation on a host of spiritual topics. This spring we will be in our new location at Bier Station, 120 E. Gregory Blvd, Kansas City, MO, with a guest speaker each session.

Music Series

NAVO, Homage to Bach, Sat., Apr. 14, Sanctuary, 7:30 p.m. NAVO is composed of internationally recognized artists who have made their home in Kansas. Features KU and Park University music faculty along with other professional musicians. For more information: <https://www.navoarts.com/> Free and open to the public.

Seasonal Gifts, Blood Drive

Opportunities to serve this spring include delivering a flower to a shut-in and organizing our summer blood drive. Spring is also the time to plan our summer blood drive. We are looking for help coordinating with the blood center and recruiting donors. For information: joew@cccckc.org.

Working with our partners at Della Lamb Community Services, a team set up a home for a family of eight refugees from the Congo.

Metro Mission Serve and Share Collection Connection

Our April collection is new clothing for Della Lamb's Operation Santa. Specifically we are collecting girls' extra small sweatshirts, girls' medium sweatshirts, boys' large underpants, boys' large sweatpants. Della Lamb can also purchase items at a lower cost by buying in bulk, so if you wish to donate money instead of clothing items that is appreciated.

Tiny House Update

One year ago, our Easter Offering raised funds for the Veterans Community Project Tiny House Neighborhood in Kansas City helping homeless veterans secure housing. Beverly Johnson of our Grants and Special Offerings Team sent a recent picture of the progress.

Special Donation Request

Our partners at Della Lamb are in need of portable sewing machines for their sewing program as a way for refugees in Kansas City to earn income. If you have a working, or repairable, sewing machine please bring it to the church. They can be cleaned and adjusted as needed.

Serve at Micah Ministry on Mon., Apr. 9

Country Club Christian Church provides volunteers to serve dinner at Micah Ministry on the second Monday evening of every month, from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. The next service opportunity at Micah Ministry will be on Mon., Apr. 9. Meet in the chapel lot at 4:30 p.m. to carpool. Return to church at 7:30 p.m.

Micah Ministry is an outreach of Independence Boulevard Christian Church (IBCC) in the Historic Northeast and one of our Northeast PartNerShip ministries. Nourishing suppers are served to their neighbors in need, mostly the working poor. Unlike some meal programs, the guests are served at tables, with tablecloths, rather than having them stand in a line to be fed.

To get involved and for more information please contact Corey Meyer at coreym@cccckc.org. Children must be at least 12 years old to serve.

a message from staff

Quiet Givers

By Lindsay Howes, Director of Children's Ministry

*Oh the wonderful way you'll feel, you hear?
If you just go out and volunteer...
A bird...a worm...a guzzle-bivvit,
Could all use some help if you'll just give it;
You might say "No! Not! No Way!"
"I've nothing to give-not today anyway!
But you'll see if you look deep inside of you,
You've lots to give!
It's true! You do!*

-Dr Suess

I am not sure you are aware, but did you know our own security team leader, Jean, and her staff, take ALL of the Easter Eggs after the Egg Hunt? I mean ALL of the eggs. They grab the bags of "RETURN EGGS HERE" after the crazy hunt and simply load them up and take them. In a few weeks, Jean will bring baskets of eggs back. They will be perfectly matched, a dozen per bag for our Collection Connection next year. Not only does she do this ridiculous task, she also comes to my office the week before the hunt, grabs any remaining eggs and says, "I will fill these and be back with a 1,000 more on Palm Sunday for the hunt"...WHAT?!

She's amazing, a quiet giver, who takes care of us every Sunday and then for the last four years has helped with this tremendous task. So when you see Jean or any of our other security on Ward Parkway, take a minute to thank them. They not only stand out there in the freezing cold, rain, sleet, you name it, but they take thousands of plastic Easter eggs and put them back together year after year. 🍷
